

Teacher Wu Wah Ying's Memorial Service [2000.03.01]

Tin Wing Sin

Last night, Chan Ching Hai, Chan Chi Man, Wong Ching Kwan, Lam Wai Leung and I went to the memorial service of Teacher Wu Wah Ying [Just a matter of interest, I just learnt that his real name was Leslie Ewing] in the HKPCAA monthly meeting. The service was filled with respect, sentiment, and interest. We learnt a lot about Teacher Wu's faithful contribution to Pui Ching, his love and care for the students, and even some of his interesting past. I believe most of us, if not all, were never taught by Teacher Wu in class and knew him only as the Panel of PE class or the Discipline Head. We knew him more as a person after the service.

In the service, Lam Wai Leung presented our donation cheque of HKD10,000 to the HKPCAA on behalf of the Class. The PCAA is very grateful to us and feel encouraged to receive such an amount when they just begin to launch the campaign for the Teacher Wu's Memorial Fund. I am sure it will prove to be catalytic in making the Memorial Fund a success.

Finally I want to thank those of you who responded to our appeal letters by sending in cheques or pledging for donation. We are particularly encouraged to see that some classmates continue to pledge even though they have already donated in the first round. I thank you all for your heartfelt support. If you think your donation may not make a difference in relation to the need, I can assure you that each dollar does count. A dollar may not worth much by itself, but the forceful power behind each dollar is beyond your imagination. Please don't let the Pui Ching Spirit cool down. Send in whatever is affordable to you.
